

THE DAY'S NEWS.

WHAT THE PEOPLE ARE DOING IN GEORGIA.

Some Pistol Practice in Hartwell County—A Mother's Search for Her Son—A Girl's Cotton Compress for Athens—A Villa Rose Lady Badly Burned—Other Matters.

BUCHANAN, March 23.—[Special.]—Friday afternoon Wyatt Williams was going out of town
after having passed William McLendon and W. V.
Perryman he got out of his buggy, went back to the豫agon and began abusing Mr. McLendon firing one shot at him. He then placed his pistol against Mr. McLendon's breast and snapped it three times, but failed to hit him. The man took the pistol from him. Then took out a knife and a long one, and held it in his hand and pointed McLendon over the head with it. There is a cut on McLendon's head which he says was shot, but
the witness did not think it was done that way, but with the knife. Williams was on Saturday arrested by Sheriff Holcomb, tried in Justice's court and placed under $200 bond which he failed
to give and is now looking through the bars.

Mr. Morey's scrub.

SAVANNAH, Ga., March 23.—[Special.]—To-day at the Gate City railroad a part from Boston, the engineer called an officer and had Joseph Morey arrested for stealing $30. He had on his person when arrested $1.50. He said he had divided with another man that watched for him while he committed the theft.

New Cotton Compress for Athens.

ATHENS, Ga., March 23.—[Special.]—Captain J. H. Rucker and A. C. Rucker have returned from New Orleans, where they purchased a large cotton compress, which will take the place of the one now in use at the Georgia depot. Captain Rucker has purchased and compressed this season over thirty-one thousand bales of cotton, and expects to double this number next season.

A fruitless search.

SAVANNAH, Ga., March 23.—[Special.]—Mrs. Bower, who arrived here from New York sometime ago, returned from Jacksonville and St. Augustine where she spent a week in fruitless search for her missing son. There was no cause for his running away, and it is thought that he was deranged at the time of his departure. Mrs. Bower is a lady of refinement, culture, and well off.

Helping His Constituents.

LAURENCE, Ga., March 23.—[Special.]—Hon.
Henry R. Harris, who returned from Washington last night, expressed his opinion to your correspondent that he had been highly pleased with Mr. Cleveland, both what he saw and heard. He says he is satisfied that the wants of the south will be duly considered, but no hasty action will be taken.
Concerning the new church over to the committee of his constituents, and with due regard to the duty as the representative from this district. He seems to really regret that there is not an office for every one who has applied, through him, to the administration. The colored is looking splendidiy.

The New Methodist Church.

HOME, Ga., March 23.—[Special.]—After the usual morning services at the Methodist congregation yesterday, there was a meeting of the building committee. Captain C. F. Kohlein formally presented the new church over to the committee.
Captain Kohlein has acted as supervising architect from the date of laying the cornerstone to the present time, giving his time and services free.
The building has been erected under his strict supervision and the church stands to-day beautiful and symmetrical in all its parts—convenient & useful. The building committee voted to present a resolution to the new church adopted by a rising young colored Captain.
The Rev. Dr. W. D. Deens was invited the Rev. J. W.
Lee, of this city, to read a paper on Hegel's contribution to Christian Thought during the summer session of the American Institute of Christian Philosophy to be held at Asbury Park.

Her Dress Caught Fire.

VILLA ROSA, Ga., March 23.—[Special.]—Mrs.
Ellis Rodgers was badly burned this morning.
She was sitting near the fire with her sick baby giving it medicine while her dress took fire, and before she could have the fire extinguished she ran out in the wind. Some one near by caught her and put the fire out but not until she was badly burned.

Burned to Death.

FAIRBURN, Ga., March 23.—[Special.]—Lon Middleton colored, had a five-year-old child burnt to death at Talbot's farm, seven miles from here, Wednesday. Left at home alone he wandered into the burning woods, 300 yards from his home, when his clothes caught from a burning stump.

A Detective Store Fine.

AMERICUS, Ga., March 23.—[Special.]—At nine o'clock last night fire was discovered in the livery and feed stables of J. W. Willett. All the horses and other stock, except a few dogs, were saved, also most of the buggies and harness. The building was entirely destroyed. The prompt action of the firemen saved all the adjoining property.
The fire is supposed to have been the result of a defective stove flue.

Floyd Superior Court.

ROME, Ga., March 23.—[Special.]—Floyd superior court opened this morning. Judge Branham delivered an able and vigorous charge to the grand jury, and it is thought that a large number of true bills will be found. There were nearly eight hundred voters in the last election who had not paid their tax, and the judge instructed the jury to indict them for illegal voting.

Crawford Superior Court.

KNOXVILLE, Ga., March 23.—[Special.]—Crawford superior court adjourned. Judge Simons pronounced sentence on the following persons, all colored: Bob Battle, five years in the penitentiary for voluntary manslaughter; Dan Worthy, two years for assault with intent to murder, and Alex Hill one year for shooting at another negro.

An Unreasonable Team.

COLUMBUS, Ga., March 23.—[Special.]—The Indianapolis club telegraphed here to-night for dates, but their terms were so unreasonable that the association refused to play them.

Andrews, the new second baseman for Columbus, will arrive Wednesday at noon.

A Hotel to be Torn Down.

COLUMBUS, Ga., March 23.—[Special.]—The Planters' hotel, owned by Hon. W. A. Little, is to be torn down and rebuilt a handsome house. The changes which are to be made will greatly improve the appearance of the west side of Broad street.

Lee Lamar's Luck.

COLUMBUS, Ga., March 23.—[Special.]—Mr. Lee Lamar, the nephew of Hon. S. A. Thornton, received notice to-day of his appointment as United States store keeper and ganger for this district, with headquarters at Columbus.

Sent to Jail.

COLUMBUS, Ga., March 23.—[Special.]—Mr. Willis Porter, of this county, accompanied by a party of friends, left here to-day for a point in South Carolina, about twenty miles from Augusta, and will return in a few days with a bride.

Cut Rates.

COLUMBUS, Ga., March 23.—[Special.]—The Merchants and Planters line of steamers has made a cut in the rate from Columbus to New Orleans, and proposes to take excursions at $8 for the round trip. The rate by rail is $10.40.

A Steamer Tied Up.

COLUMBUS, Ga., March 23.—[Special.]—The steamer Amos Mayes has been tied up at the wharf and will be thoroughly repaired.

THE DAY'S NEWS.

The Gossip and Facts of a Day in the State of Georgia.

Mr. George Phillips, an old resident of Dahlone-ga, and soldier of the Mexican war, died on Friday night of last week, and was buried with military honors by the corps of cadets of the North Georgia Agricultural College.

Large quantities of commercial fertilizers are being bought by Sereen county planters.

BUCHANAN, March 23.—[Special.]—Friday afternoon Wyatt Williams was going out of town
after having passed William McLendon and W. V.
Perryman he got out of his buggy, went back to the豫agon and began abusing Mr. McLendon
firing one shot at him. He then placed his pistol against Mr. McLendon's breast and snapped it three times, but failed to hit him. The man took the pistol from him. Then took out a knife and pointed McLendon over the head with it. There is a cut on McLendon's head which he says was shot, but
the witness did not think it was done that way, but with the knife. Williams was on Saturday
arrested by Sheriff Holcomb, tried in Justice's
court and placed under $200 bond which he failed
to give and is now looking through the bars.

Mr. Seymour Rodgers, of Macon, who has been spending some time at the residence of his father Mr. Frank A. Freeman, of Spalding county, had his left hand and arm badly burned. A little daughter of Mrs. Rodgers was standing by the fire-place, trying to kindle a fire. She had set a lighted candle on the hearth, by which she was igniting the kindling wood. In some way she caused fire from the candle which was lighting a moment. The child, in fright, started to rush out of the room, but her mother, who was sick, sprang out of bed, caught her, and succeeded, after much effort, in extinguishing the flames. The child's hair was burned, but she suffered no other injury.
She had on a woolen dress which probably saved her from being badly burned. Mrs. Rodgers had severe burns. Her left hand and arm were severely burned, but she has not yet recovered from it.

Fort Valley Mirror: On Friday morning the family of Mr. T. J. King, a school teacher, including the wife and their son, were found dead in their home. The wife and children of his brother, to whom he had rendered assistance when able to work, had been found dead in their home on Friday, March 23.
In order to secure the school fund it is necessary to sell the entire rental of the State road to be devoted to that purpose, and also that the dogs be taxed Attention was given to the assessment of property with the result of increasing the assessment upon real estate alone $19,616. The grand jury says:

Our greatest difficulty has been to get and correct what we regard as a serious error—the undervaluation of property. We have taxed our money and solvent debts of all kinds! that they possessed on the first day of April. In the case of the school fund, the amount of the tax is to be carried over from the preceding year, leaving the amount of the tax the same.

A citizen of Perry owns a cat that is an enemy to roaches, and other insects, killing them where-ever found, besides being a mouse of superior qualities.

Mr. S. L. Norwood, of Houston, owns a game hen that has made her nest in a tree, had laid therein a dozen eggs, and is now persistently setting on them.

The last session of Newton superior court was held in a store room. The inconvenience was so great that the grand jury adjourned to the regular term in September. The new courthouse will be ready in time for the September term of court.
It will cost $28,000 and will be very handsome. The brick work is substantially finished.

Mr. Howe Burroughs, who died the other day in Savannah, was a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Burroughs, and was educated in Boston. He was a graduate of Yale college and a student at Northampton, Mass., and in the law office of Judge Waynes. He received his diploma about 1857. He practiced law but a short time, preferring planting engagements. He married in early life Miss Anna E. daughter of Mr. Francis H. McLeod, of Greenville, S. C., and subsequently removed to Florida, where he was a successful planter. The death of his father recalled him to his native home, where he entered into mercantile engagements until falling health caused him to retire to private life, seeking happiness in the quiet home of his devoted household. He never cared for distinction or the applause that birth and once ample means entitled him to.

IN MORGAN COUNTY.

The county courthouse, in the opinion of the grand jury, should be "cleaned up once a week, and often if necessary." The county is free from debt. There are one hundred and twenty paupers on the poor farm. The county school commissioner, having paid several school teachers of adjoining counties for tuition of the children in Monroe county, in their schools and reciprocally having been refused, the grand jury says:

As we have been informed that the adjoining county refuses to pay the tuition of children of the colored race, we are compelled to do the same.

One day last week Mr. John W. Gann, presented the Dooley vindictor with two of the largest hawks ever seen in that section—measuring a little more than three feet from tip to tip. Mr. Gann has a trap of his own patent in which he never fails to catch all that frequent his poultry yard.
The two just mentioned made out the number of fowls in twelve months.

HIS AUNT'S TEETH.

A Moment of Agony for a Small Boy and a Big Newfoundland.

From the New York Herald.

Please, sir, give me an emetic, and quick, please."

The up-to-date druggist peered over his counter at the customer and saw a small nine-year-old boy and a big Newfoundland dog. The boy's face was dirty and tear-stained; the dog's face was

IN MORGAN COUNTY.

The commissioners report 39 public schools of which 23 are white and 16 colored; number of children enrolled 1,077 showing an increase of 161 over the previous year. Of this number 983 are white and 99 colored. The average attendance of the white during the public term was 561, that of the colored 678. The following queer paragraph appears in the presentment:

We also recommend that these general presents be published in the county papers, the names of which are given below, and that the county board of education to pay the expenses.

Colonel James Bryan, who died in Hall county, aged 94 years, served in the War of 1812 and also in the Florida war, was commissioned major of the Ninety-eighth Battalion of militia, January 28, 1860, by Governor George R. Gilmer; also commissioned colonel of the Seventy-eighth, community of Governor Wilson's regiment, in 1863.
Moved to Lumpkin and Lumpkin, July 17, after the removal of the county immediately left the residence of the Cheechee Indians, and lived by a possible trust for several years of his commission from the governor of the state, as one of the justices of the inferior court.

The debt of the city of LaGrange was reduced to $2,500, a few days since, by an action of the authorities in taking up that amount of bonds. In another twelve months, the reporter says, the county will be free of all obligations, and be one of the cleanest, brightest and best town in the state, into which it will be easily admitted.

IN COBB COUNTY.

There are twenty-seven inmates in the poor house. The treasury has a balance of $1,411. The books of the county officers are nearly kept. The next grand jury are requested to investigate the books of the county commissioners.

IN GORDON COUNTY.

The county court is to receive a further trial.
A reduction of the poor farm is recommended. The officers were instructed to keep leavers out of the courthouse.

IN SPECIAL STATES CONDENSED.

GEORGE W. JOHN spoke last night in Savannah, Sharon, to one hundred pupils now in school.

The good Templars of Athens are going to run a large exhibition to Tallulah Falls on April 1.

A citizen of Athens, while going home a little after the induction of white, fell in a twenty foot deep ravine on the side of a hill. He was fish out considerably bruised up.

An Officer Without Reward.

The abolition of the county court is recommended. The roads are declared to be in a bad condition. A protest was made against any change in the railroad commission law. Opposition is expressed to the passage of the present liquid bill pending before the legislature if its passage would
in any way affect the present local liquor law.
Prisoners cannot escape from the jail unless aided by outsiders. There are in the treasury $1,394.

Percy's Fish Story.

From the Rome, Ga., Bulletin.

Percy Wood, the genial and popular ticket agent of the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia at East Rome, while away the dull hours between trains, when not otherwise employed, in telling marvelous stories for the edification of his friends who might be present to listen.

He will be back to-day.

IN CLINCH COUNTY.

The abolition of the county court is recommended. The roads are declared to be in a bad condition. A protest was made against any change in the railroad commission law. Opposition is expressed to the passage of the present liquid bill
pending before the legislature if its passage would
in any way affect the present local liquor law.
Prisoners cannot escape from the jail unless aided
by outsiders. There are in the treasury $1,394.

The Dry Pond.

From the Atlanta, Ga., South.

Last evening the dry pond was perfectly dry. It partially filled during the following winter, and although the summer and fall was dry, yet it did not fill again, it is full of little water, and the bottom is covered with mud.

It is the opinion of the dry pond that it will not fill again, and that it will be dry for a long time to come.

IN THE SPRING.

There is a report that the dry pond will fill
again, and that it will be full of water for a long time to come.

IN THE FALL.

There is a report that the dry pond will fill
again, and that it will be full of water for a long time to come.

IN THE WINTER.

There is a report that the dry pond will fill
again, and that it will be full of water for a long time to come.

IN THE SPRING.

There is a report that the dry pond will fill
again, and that it will be full of water for a long time to come.

THE CONSTITUTION.

Published Daily and Weekly.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA.

THE DAILY CONSTITUTION is published every day in the week, and is delivered by carriers in the city, or mailed, postage free, at $1 per month, $5 for three months, or $10 a year.

THE CONSTITUTION is for sale on all trains of Atlanta, and at newsstands in the principal southern cities.

ADVERTISING RATES depend on location in the paper, and will be furnished on application.

CORRESPONDENCE containing important news solicited from all parts of the country.

ADDRESS all letters and telegrams, and make all drafts or checks payable to

THE CONSTITUTION,

Atlanta, Georgia.

ATLANTA, MARCH 24, 1885.

INDICATIONS for the South Atlantic states taken at 1 a. m.: Fair, warmer weather, variable winds, shifting to easterly, falling pressure on the coast by rising barometer.

Mr. BEECHER, whose opinions on current topics are printed elsewhere, is quite hopeful that the democrats have come into power for the purpose of staying quiet a while. He regards the attitude of the south toward the administration as being very dignified.

The sending of General Henry R. Jackson to the court of the Montezumas reads like old times, when he represented the United States in the proud city of Vienna. General Jackson is a born diplomat, and is just the man to handle the delicate questions which are always arising between Mexico and the United States.

There is now a story afloat in Illinois that some time this week Speaker Blaines will abandon Morrison for Farwell, republican, and thus secure the defeat of Logan. On the other hand, it is stated that if Haines attempts this movement, that Morrison will throw his strength for Logan, and thus defeat the manipulators.

The prompt and unanimous confirmation of District Attorney Hill is an added compliment to the honor of his selection. Mr. Hill will be commissioned at once, and will perhaps be in his office in less than a week. He will be the worthy pioneer of the host of good democrats who will, in time, occupy the customhouse and make the folks feel at home when they drop in to see how our government is run.

THE NEW APPOINTMENTS. President Cleveland yesterday nominated Edwin J. Phelps, of Vermont, as minister to Great Britain; Robert M. McLane, of Maryland, minister to France; George H. Pendleton, of Ohio, minister to Germany; and Henry R. Jackson, of Georgia, minister to Mexico.

These appointments will give general satisfaction, not only to the country, but to the democratic party. The appointment of General Henry R. Jackson will be particularly pleasing to Georgia, where his attainments are so well known. The English minister is supposed to be the most important, but its importance is now, and has been for many years, purely social. From a practical business point of view, the Mexican mission is the most important, as well as the most responsible, and it is fitting that the president should select for the post a gentleman who possesses diplomatic training and experience. Previous to the war General Jackson was minister to Austria, and he held the position with credit to himself and honor to the country. He has won distinction in both civil and military life. He served in Mexico and in the war between the states, and his character, his energy and his accomplishments have always given him prominence. Both the Georgia senators were warmly in favor of General Jackson's appointment, and cordially co-operated to that end.

Mr. Edwin J. Phelps, the new minister to England, is not so well known in this section, but he is a prominent New England democrat and a leading lawyer. He has never held public office, but has been a candidate for governor of Vermont on the democratic ticket.

Governor Robert M. McLane, the new minister to France, was in congress until two years ago, and has since been governor of Maryland.

Mr. Pendleton, the new minister to Germany, is well known. He has been prominent in national politics for many years, and has recently been in the senate of the United States.

RHODE ISLAND POLITICS.

Both parties in Rhode Island have held conventions and put up tickets to be voted for in the election of next week. The democratic convention was unusually full in point of representation, and the delegates had the honor to prepare the first democratic state platform after the election of Mr. Cleveland. It is to brief and yet so comprehensive that we give it entire.

Resolved, that the democracy of Rhode Island, in convention assembled, express their full concurrence in the doctrine that a public office is a public trust, and in all the other do's and don'ts declared in the inaugural address of President Cleveland.

Resolved, that we are in favor of the passage of a law declaring ten hours a day to be the legal time for a day's work in the factories of this state.

Resolved, that the people of Rhode Island are entitled to a republican form of government, in accordance with the true spirit of American civilization and constitutional government, and we pledge our earnest support in all legal measures to secure such a legal government for Rhode Island.

The democrats of Rhode Island have long striven to repeal the property qualification in the constitution of their state. This limitation of the ballot shuns out a good share of the people, and the property-holders have thus far been able to retain their undemocratic privilege. Ziba O. Slocum is the democratic nominee for governor, and he is opposed by a natural and proper candidate of the plutocratic party. George Peabody Wetmore, the owner of the finest cottage in Newport, and one of the country's aristocracy. The party of the people and the party of monopolies and privileges never had more representative candidates running on appropriate platforms, and if all the citizens of Rhode Island were permitted to vote the people's candidate would be pretty sure to win. As things are, the Newport man will be apt to get in. And the Rhode Island plutocrats, after excluding from the ballot boxes the less fortunate of their own state, are hesitant to turn about and talk long and loud about alleged restrictions of the suffrage in other and better states. For meanness and undemocratic practices at home, and for hypocrisy in discussing the suffrage in other communities, the ruling class of the little state is very peculiar. Why, if the Rhode Island qualification were extended to the south, not one colored man in a thousand would be entitled to the ballot. As the democrats well say in their platform, Rhode Island lacks one thing—a republican form of government. She has instead class rule of the most obnoxious nature.

METROPOLITAN HUMOR.

We are surrounded by a great country, and especially great is that part of the country lying to the north of us. There is the metropolis, for instance, where much of the greatness concentrates and has its abiding place. Everything in the metropolis is great. Even justice is great and is dispensed on a grand scale.

The other day a policeman on duty in this center of greatness and grandeur, saw a sight that harrowed his official soul. It was the spectacle of a forlorn woman asking for alms on Broadway, and it was more than the sensitive officer could endure. He seized the forlorn and friendless woman, "run her in," as the reporters say, and locked her up with the rest of the criminals.

The next morning she was tried before one of the many noble police justices that abound in the great metropolis—in this instance Mr. Justice Gorman. The trial was a very interesting one. Mr. Justice Gorman was in high good humor, the officials of the court smiled judicially, and the reporters giggled as they sharpened their pencils. The whole affair was equal to a show, and a very funny show at that.

In the first place, the woman was poor—very poor—and in the great metropolis of wealth, there is nothing more amusing than poverty. In the second place, the woman had been in a legg or money to buy her some bread, and in the great metropolis of charity there's no worse crime than to be begging for money to buy bread. As the reporter said, it is more than likely to make love to her, and it is more likely that she will always remain single.

Just before President Arthur went out of office he appointed his colored body-servant, Alex Weller, a clerk in the railway mail service.

Mr. Weller is one of the cattle sharps of Gotham. She is fifty years of age and gets $100 a week out of her business.

Her business compels her to be out at night, but she carries a revolver, and more than once she has shot a man in the leg.

This queer woman has accumulated a fortune of $600,000. She is very much respected and very much liked. The other day she was in a restaurant, and her company have never had the audacity to make love to her, and it is more likely that she will always remain single.

The unexpected always happens. An Amsterdam, N. Y., woman, after living forty years without the ability or the desire to play on the piano, discovered the other day that she could sing and play the most difficult music when placed before her. Her wonderful gift is the sensation of the neighborhood. If this sort of thing becomes epidemic it will be worse than having a fresh batch of electric telephones turned loose.

Rev. W. F. Crafts is suing a New York undertake for $1,000 damages. Mr. Crafts was called to attend the funeral of a child who had died of diphtheria. He was not aware of the nature of the disease and wore his best suit. The next day he found his clothes disfigured with the color of carbolic acid, and when his wife scented it she was afraid to touch him. Mr. Crafts employs a lawyer to bring suit, and it is thought that his bill of particulars will be something like this: Shock to nervous system, $200; shock to wife's nervous system, $20; damage to suit, $75; damage to overcoat, $75; chloride of lime, 50 cents; postage stamp, 50 cents; saying "My God," once, $5; saying "Can this be diphtheria?" twice, $4; loss of time, $300; loss of wife's time, $400; sundries, $6. It will be aough case for the courts.

Our in Louisville, Ky., quite a number of people are gradually coming to believe that Sam Randal is still a member of the democratic party.

THE FREQUENT ALLUSIONS in the New York Herald to "Foxy" We are informed, for instance, that the foxy will not break up until the 1st of April. The new editor of the Herald is evidently a college graduate, for we have observed that when a college graduate arranges himself to perform the feat of writing a composition in the English language the first word that rushes into his mind is "Foxy."

Mr. Blaine is the second volume of his history of the world, and the 1st of April.

The prompt and unanimous confirmation of District Attorney Hill is an added compliment to the honor of his selection. Mr. Hill will be commissioned at once, and will perhaps be in his office in less than a week. He will be the worthy pioneer of the host of good democrats who will, in time, occupy the customhouse and make the folks feel at home when they drop in to see how our government is run.

NOT ENTITLED TO IT.

I. R. Athens, Ga.: Would the brothers and sisters of a soldier who fought through the Mexican war and died a single man be entitled to a pension?

No. Such a pension law would astonish the masses.

ENGLISH GRAMMARS.

J. B. R., Huntsville, Ala.: How many different English grammars are there in existence?

We do not know. One gentleman collected 4,000 and gave it up. Scores of new grammars are published every year.

THE INFLUENCE OF CLIMATE.

Sutherland, Marietta, Ohio: How do the inhabitants of tropical countries compare intellectually with the people of northern countries?

The climate of the tropics is about the same everywhere. A tropical climate is not so continuous and physical exertion, but some of the world's brightest intellects were born in the West Indies, and the City of Mexico furnishes lawyers, orators, journalists, literary men and soldiers whose talents would be recognized anywhere. The climate has its effect, but there is more in the man, in the race, than there is in the climate.

TAKING CARE OF THE PIANO.

Beale, Dalton, Ga.: Give me a few hints about keeping a piano in good order.

Any hard substance, no matter how small, dropped inside a piano, will cause a rattling, jarring noise.

In every case, desirable that an indiarubber or cloth cover should protect the instrument from bristles and scratches.

The piano should not be placed in a damp room or left open in a draft of cold air.

Dampness is its most dangerous enemy.

By some means, altogether unaccountable, the case exploded, tearing off the head of Hughes' finger, and making a hole in his side as large as a silver dollar.

He was carried to Mrs. Bryan's boarding house, and Dr. Gwynne was called in.

The finger was cut off, but he returned to Arkansas, and shortly began a course in dark as remarkable as it was successful.

In 1878, when he was re-elected in 1872 and 1878, when he was chosen speaker of the house of the general assembly. He was elected to the convention in 1875, and in 1878 he was elected judge of the fourth judicial circuit.

In 1882 he was unanimously nominated for the office of state auditor, but he returned to

Arkansas, and shortly began a course in dark as remarkable as it was successful.

In 1884 he was again elected speaker of the house.

He was re-elected in 1885, and in 1886 he

was again elected speaker of the house.

He was re-elected in 1887, and in 1888 he

was again elected speaker of the house.

He was re-elected in 1889, and in 1890 he

was again elected speaker of the house.

He was re-elected in 1891, and in 1892 he

was again elected speaker of the house.

He was re-elected in 1893, and in 1894 he

was again elected speaker of the house.

He was re-elected in 1895, and in 1896 he

was again elected speaker of the house.

He was re-elected in 1897, and in 1898 he

was again elected speaker of the house.

He was re-elected in 1899, and in 1900 he

was again elected speaker of the house.

He was re-elected in 1901, and in 1902 he

was again elected speaker of the house.

He was re-elected in 1903, and in 1904 he

was again elected speaker of the house.

He was re-elected in 1905, and in 1906 he

was again elected speaker of the house.

He was re-elected in 1907, and in 1908 he

was again elected speaker of the house.

He was re-elected in 1909, and in 1910 he

was again elected speaker of the house.

He was re-elected in 1911, and in 1912 he

was again elected speaker of the house.

He was re-elected in 1913, and in 1914 he

was again elected speaker of the house.

He was re-elected in 1915, and in 1916 he

was again elected speaker of the house.

He was re-elected in 1917, and in 1918 he

was again elected speaker of the house.

He was re-elected in 1919, and in 1920 he

was again elected speaker of the house.

He was re-elected in 1921, and in 1922 he

was again elected speaker of the house.

He was re-elected in 1923, and in 1924 he

was again elected speaker of the house.

He was re-elected in 1925, and in 1926 he

was again elected speaker of the house.

He was re-elected in 1927, and in 1928 he

was again elected speaker of the house.

He was re-elected in 1929, and in 1930 he

was again elected speaker of the house.

He was re-elected in 1931, and in 1932 he

was again elected speaker of the house.

He was re-elected in 1933, and in 1934 he

was again elected speaker of the house.

He was re-elected in 1935, and in 1936 he

was again elected speaker of the house.

He was re-elected in 1937, and in 1938 he

was again elected speaker of the house.

He was re-elected in 1939, and in 1940 he

was again elected speaker of the house.

He was re-elected in 1941, and in 1942 he

was again elected speaker of the house.

He was re-elected in 1943, and in 1944 he

was again elected speaker of the house.

He was re-elected in 1945, and in 1946 he

was again elected speaker of the house.

He was re-elected in 1947, and in 1948 he

was again elected speaker of the house.

He was re-elected in 1949, and in 1950 he

